5 Russia and the US are natural allies - against globalism. Both countries are proud of their heritage and history.

1 “ Both countries are proud of their heritage and history.

But only one of them is going just about as far out of its way as imaginable to prove you wrong.

It's not only the left. Remember that every time you hear a neocon Russia hawk screaming at the top of their lungs about "our worst enemy" as if we're still in the midst of the Cold War shooting at the bear in the woods.

1 So confusing to me, since Russia and China seem, on the surface, to be on the same team. Maybe they just decided to split us up evenly...

Xi: We no want crazy rednecks, you take the conservatives! Putin: Da, Russians aren't pussies. You take simple minded leftists, they make good factory slaves. Xi: You don't think I look like Pooh bear, right Putin? Putin: No, no friend. (Yes)

8 Russia and China are on the same team because we're in Russia's face and they don't really have anyone else to turn to. China will devour the resource productive parts of the Russian Far East in time with immigration pressure, and Russia knows it, and can't do anything about it. They're allies of necessity only.

2 So if we wanted our Minecraft server to start a war with China's Minecraft server, we would just need to invite Russia to join us? Or are they still too butthurt at us for whatever we did to them? Could be a fun war... in Minecraft.

2 We just need them to make popcorn, chill out and watch the show. Easiest thing in the world to do, is nothing.

Besides, if Russia was in on it, Putin would have congratulated Biden by now. Putin knows what's going down. He's a Minecraft pro builder.

then we turn around and identify the fact that they trade with our enemies as evidence of hostility. There is so much more evidence of our news media, CIA, military, etc. etc. interfering in Russia domestic affairs than the other way around it'll make your head spin. Really fucking pisses me off to see people supposedly on "our team" trashing the fake news media on every front and then just regurgitating literally the most disgusting lies about Russia straight from the CNN cesspool. Putin has made himself a mortal enemy of Western leftism, he clarifies that pretty much every chance he's given. Do you really have to wonder twice about why they hate him?

Leave them the fuck alone, they are just trying to dig themselves out of the third world.

Putin is only an "enemy" insofar as our foreign policy with respect to Russia is dictated by the deep state.

Wasn't that our supposed strategy for the last 4 decades? I'm sure with the even more centralized oligarchy of Russia it wouldn't take too many Fang Fangs to create the same kind of pro-China ruling class we now find ourselves living under...

China has already started encroaching on Siberia and will the rest of the gas and oil in Russia, Russians know that we can stop them, but our leftist butthurts can't deal with Russia because of whatever gay reasons.

▼ So where are you from? You have an interesting perspective.

Keep in mind however, America was not an interventionist country really until our late entry into the world wars. Then its like we got a taste for blood and decided to conquer everything. JFK saw this evil, called for action to stop it, but then got ahem randomly assassinated by a magic bullet, as the official story still says.

▼ Thanks for the insight. On the sarcasm side, I'd love hot war with china because the first and easiest target for them would be our west coast, and cali could use a nice wake up smack to the face.

Seriously though, I think the Trump doctrine is the realization that China is still at a point where they would not engage in war outside of their own theater (eg, North Korea, S China Sea), so we can pretty much raise the tensions as high as possible and hope they blink first. I think it worked pretty well, but if Biden is allowed to steal power he'll quickly throw it all out, make everything awful, then blame Trump's "war on china" for the recession he creates.

China is smart to invest more in social control than bombs. Buying our thought leaders is practically legal, not as much need for spies when you have willing (but unwitting) double agents. We demand open internet that they use to sow division, while they keep their population behind a great firewall.

Of course, I know they have also invested in bombs. But idk, I feel like (hope, really) that we're still pretty far out in front of our opponents militarily. Since it's all classified, guess we won't know until its too late...
